Bon Voyage with Dancers At Sea!

Nothing can compare with the passionate abandon of the culture-the music, the dance, the spicy food and refreshing drink. The time has come to Tango in Buenos Aires and behold the hypnotic rhythms of a samba show! Every day is a dazzling vista to behold and every evening, the dance experience of your dreams! All of this plus unparalleled fun with the unlimited dance opportunities with the best Dancers at Sea!

Start in beautiful Buenos Aires, famous for its echoes of European grandeur and undeniable energy. We then make for a stay in Montevideo where you can enjoy a stroll through this capital city's Old Town dating back to the 1700s, complete with colonial homes, one-of-a-kind shops, and sidewalk cafes. Next, Puerto Madryn is your gateway to one of South America's largest breeding grounds for birds and mammals - beautiful Tombo National Reserve. Other port calls include the Falkland Islands (Stanley), Ushuaia, Argentina and Puerto Montt, Chile.

- Evenings filled with milongas and social dancing to practice your new skills
- Strong focus on Argentine Tango, Latin, and a splash of ballroom dances
  - Guaranteed ratio of one professional host/hostess for every 3 guests
- Learn how to truly express yourself and capture your passion through dance

Buenos Aires, Argentina

Welcome to elegant Buenos Aires, with its European colonial architecture and colorful mix of cultures. Enjoy Palermo with its mansions and parks; shop in the chic boutiques of Soho and Hollywood; and soak up the Italian flavor of La Boca where tango dancers and artists display their talents for passersby.

Montevideo, Uruguay

Montevideo exudes European charm and elegance, with broad boulevards, fountains, stately squares, and irresistible sidewalk cafes. Take in the Art Nouveau pedestrian mall, Art Deco Centenary Stadium, and American Embassy designed by I.M. Pei.

Puerto Madryn, Argentina

Fleeing the economic devastation of England's Industrial Revolution, Welsh settlers immigrated to Argentina in search of cheap land. Led by Viscount Madryn, a group of settlers sailed for Patagonia, founding the city of Puerto Madryn in 1865. Life in Patagonia, however, was not easy. There were lonely prairies, brutally cold winters, and unrelenting winds. Still the Welsh survived, and today visitors can still see their legacy in Puerto Madryn and its surrounding communities.

Falkland Islands (Stanley)

Capital of the Falklands since 1845, tiny Stanley lies on the windswept tip of East Falkland Island. The Falklands long served as a way station for ships, particularly whalers, bound to and from Cape Horn. Today, travelers increasingly journey to the islands to view their rich assortment of bird and marine life.

Ushuaia, Argentina

Magellan called it Tierra del Fuego, "the Land of Fire," after seeing flames rise from the islands. For over three centuries, the name struck fear in the hearts of mariners. Howling headwinds, mountainous seas and rocky coastlines spelled a sudden end to many voyages. Today, Ushuaia, a former Argentine penal colony, serves as a gateway to this wilderness where snow-capped mountains plummet to the icy waters of the Beagle Channel.

Santiago (San Antonio), Chile

Nestled between rolling hills topped with colorful houses and meandering coastal dunes, the bustling city of San Antonio enjoys its reputation as the gateway to Chile's central valley and the capital of Santiago. With a population of over five million people, Santiago sprawls at the feet of the snow-capped Andes. Inland lies the sun-kissed wine regions of Casablanca and Maipo Maipo Valley, Chile's internationally renowned wine district.
